Tuesday 6th/Wednesday 7th May 2014

In this final study in the Sermon on the Mount let us note that having heard Jesus teaching we are now numbered among the “everyone” in verse 24!

- 1) What is this story about building on rock and sand fundamentally about?

- 2) What do the rain, floods and winds represent in Jesus’ illustration in verses 25 and 27?

- 3) What is Jesus’ explaining when he describes two contrasting foundations for this building project?

- 4) What lessons are there for us from this passage in our Christians lives today?

- 5) Much of what Jesus had taught in this sermon must have made for uncomfortable listening. What then is the significance of the general response to it all as described by Matthew in verses 28-29?

- 6) As we come to the end of this series, what are the general and specific lessons you will have taken from it?
